On May 29th 2022 LaBroughton, an upcoming Scottish composer, released his first EP. LaBroughton is based in Central Scotland and has studied music at Perth College. He is currently working on a full themed album.

LaBroughton's work has been described as atmospheric, where the instrument textures play with one another in a huge sonic space. The track Ancient Ice conveys the idea of something waiting under the ice waiting for its opportunity to rise up.
